Title IX Harassment Defined

What is Title IX Harassment¹

- ▶ Title IX prohibits sex discrimination in the programs and activities of all educational institutions receiving federal funding, including school-sponsored activities, school approved and/or funded activities or programs, and school sponsored or approved travel, where such locations or activities are under the substantial control of the institution
- ▶ Title IX prohibits different treatment on the basis of sex in all aspects of a school's education programs or activities with respect to both students and staff, where such differential treatment effectively prevents an individual from accessing the educational institution
- ▶ Title IX prohibits retaliation against an individual for opposing or reporting discrimination, complaining about discrimination, or participating in a discrimination investigation.

1. <https://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/docs/titleix-summary.pdf>

What is Title IX Harassment¹

- ▶ Title IX also can prohibit policies and procedures that disproportionately affect women or girls in an adverse way, even if those policies and procedures appear neutral.
- ▶ Title IX requires schools to adopt policies and procedures that are important for the prevention and correction of sex discrimination.
- ▶ Title IX also expressly covers dating violence, domestic violence, stalking, and unwanted/non-consensual sexual conduct as a form of Sexual Harassment

1. <https://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/docs/titleix-summary.pdf>

What is Title IX Harassment

- ▶ Title IX regulations as amended on August 14, 2020, make clear that Sexual harassment is a form of sex discrimination covered by Title IX (and Title VII – more later).
- ▶ Regulations include expansive definitions under federal law with overlap under New York State Law, which is in some areas more expansive
- ▶ Sexual harassment is now defined under 34 C.F.R. §106.30 as conduct that occurs on the basis of sex that prevents a complainant's right of equal access to the educational institution and falls under one or more of three categories

1. <https://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/docs/titleix-summary.pdf>

What is Title IX Harassment

- ▶ The Final Rule defines sexual harassment broadly to include any of three types of misconduct on the basis of sex, all of which jeopardize and “effectively deny” a complainant’s equal access to the educational institution that Title IX is designed to protect:
 - ▶ Any instance of “Quid Pro Quo” harassment - an employee of the recipient institution conditioning the provision of an aid, benefit, or service of the recipient on an individual's participation in unwelcome sexual conduct;
 - ▶ Unwelcome conduct determined by a reasonable person to be so severe, pervasive, and objectively offensive that it effectively denies a person equal access to the recipient's education program or activity; or
 - ▶ Any instance of conduct that qualifies as “Sexual assault” as defined under the Clery Act, “dating violence”, “domestic violence”

1. <https://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/docs/titleix-summary.pdf>

What is Title IX Harassment

The Final Rule utilizes the “effectively denies” standard from the Supreme Court’s decision in Davis v. Monroe, 526 U.S. 629 (1999)

- Case involving peer sexual harassment between students
- Intent of offender is irrelevant
- so severe, pervasive, and objectively offensive, and that so undermines and detracts from the ... educational experience, that the victim ... are effectively denied equal access to an institution’s resources and opportunities.

The Final Rule removes language and standard for harassment where conduct only “limits” equal access to the institution’s resources and opportunities

The Final Rule as originally crafted in 2020 attempts to rely more directly on Supreme Court precedents in Title IX cases like Davis, while also distinguishing any reliance on Title VII cases in the employment context

1. <https://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/docs/titleix-summary.pdf>

Where does Title IX apply

- ▶ Sexual Harassment is defined as occurring in a School’s “Education Program or Activity” and “in the United States”
- ▶ The Title IX statute applies to persons in the United States with respect to education programs or activities that receive Federal financial assistance. Under the Final Rule, schools must respond when sexual harassment occurs in the school’s education program or activity, against a person in the United States.
 - ▶ The Title IX statute and existing regulations contain broad definitions of a school’s “program or activity” and the Department will continue to look to these definitions for the scope of a school’s education program or activity.
 - ▶ Education program or activity includes locations, events, or circumstances over which the school exercised substantial control over both the respondent and the context in which the sexual harassment occurred, and also includes any building owned or controlled by a student organization that is officially recognized by a postsecondary institution (such as a fraternity or sorority house).
- ▶ A school may address sexual harassment affecting its students or employees that falls outside Title IX’s jurisdiction in any manner the school chooses, including providing supportive measures or pursuing discipline

1. <https://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/docs/titleix-summary.pdf>

Why is Title IX Harassment a Concern?

- ▶ While sexual harassment is a concern for schools generally, it could be of particular concern in STEM areas or other programs where there are historically and/or frequently small numbers of female students in such courses or programs of study. Small numbers increase the potential that female students may become targets of harassment.
- ▶ Gender-based harassment as a form of sex discrimination as prohibited under New York State Law, open question under Title IX
- ▶ Harassing conduct based on sex or sex stereotypes may or may not still be barred under Title IX, even if the harassment is not sexual in nature, but it is still prohibited under New York State Law.
- ▶ Examples include:
 - ▶ A student harassing a fellow student by altering his/her lab results because of his/her sex.
 - ▶ A student harassing another student and refusing to be his/her lab partner in a physics class or CTE class because s/he thinks s/he will not be able to handle the work seriously because of his/her sex.
 - ▶ A teacher refusing to assign a partner to work with a female students because the teacher thinks the female student cannot/will not be able to handle the work seriously because of her sex

Employers must provide each employee with a copy of its policy in writing. Employers should provide employees with the policy in the language spoken by their employees.

The adoption of a policy does not constitute a conclusive defense to charges of unlawful sexual harassment. Each claim of sexual harassment will be determined in accordance with existing legal standards, with due consideration of the particular facts and circumstances of the claim, including but not limited to the existence of an effective anti-harassment policy and procedure.

Rules and Obligations

Title IX Investigation Requirements

Title IX—Investigation Requirements

Title IX Regulations require the following:

- ▶ Respond promptly when any school employee has notice of sexual harassment, including sexual assault
- ▶ Title IX extends to all aspects of a school's education program or activity and applies to any activity controlled or operated by the school, or any building owned or controlled by school
- ▶ If a survivor (accuser/complainant) chooses to participate in a grievance process, accusers cannot be inappropriately being asked about prior sexual history (also known as "rape shield" protections), and a survivor is not be required to divulge any medical, psychological, or similarly privileged records.
- ▶ A survivor never has to come face-to-face with the accused during a hearing, and an accused is never allowed to personally ask questions of a survivor.
- ▶ Survivors are protected against retaliation when they choose to report sexual misconduct or not, file a formal complaint or not, participate in a grievance process or not.
- ▶ Survivors are protected against bullying or harassment throughout the grievance (complaint and investigation) process

Title IX—Investigation Requirements

- ▶ Schools must take immediate and appropriate action to investigate or otherwise determine what happened.
- ▶ The inquiry must be prompt, thorough, and impartial.
- ▶ Procedures must provide equal opportunity for both Parties to appeal a determination and decision
- ▶ If harassment occurs, schools must take prompt and effective steps reasonably calculated to end the harassment, eliminate any hostile environment, and prevent it from happening again to the victim or to others.
- ▶ For Example:
 - ▶ If a student files a sexual harassment complaint with the school against her teacher and the school determines that a hostile environment has been created, it must take steps to end the harassment, eliminate the hostile environment, and prevent its recurrence. Potential remedies should include allowing the student to have a new class or teacher.
 - ▶ If a school is made aware that a particular teacher denigrates the answers that are provided by female students but not similar answers by male students and this causes a hostile environment, it must take steps to end the conduct, eliminate the hostile environment, and prevent its recurrence. This may include speaking with that teacher and providing appropriate training.

Title IX—Investigation Requirements

Title IX can also apply in the context of Employment in the same manner as Title VII

- ▶ Schools may not discriminate on the basis of sex in employment or recruitment, including but not limited to hiring, promotion, consideration of and award of tenure, grants of leave, benefits, and selection and financial support for training. (34 C.F.R. § 106.51)

Title IX Specific Terms

Definition of Harassment

“Based on Sex”

Title IX—Scope of Title IX

The Reach of Title IX - Redux and Reversed

Title IX in the context of Title VII case law – The Supreme Court’s Decision in *Bostock*¹

- ▶ Holding: an employer violates Title VII, which makes it unlawful to discriminate against an individual “because of” the individual’s sex, by firing an individual for being homosexual or being a transgender person.
- ▶ So long as the plaintiff’s sex was one but-for cause of that decision, that is enough to trigger the law. Citing Nassar, 570 U.S. at 350, 133 S.Ct. 2517.
- ▶ Congress has moved in the opposite direction [of narrow liability], supplementing Title VII in 1991 to allow a plaintiff to prevail merely by showing that a protected trait like sex was a “motivating factor” in a defendant’s challenged employment practice. Civil Rights Act of 1991, § 107, 105 Stat. 1075, codified at *1740 42 U.S.C. § 2000e–2(m).
- ▶ “[D]iscrimination based on homosexuality or transgender status necessarily entails discrimination based on sex; the first cannot happen without the second. Nor is there any such thing as a “canon of donut holes,” in which Congress’s failure to speak directly to a specific case that falls within a more general statutory rule creates a tacit exception. Instead, when Congress chooses not to include any exceptions to a broad rule, courts apply the broad rule. And that is exactly how this Court has always approached Title VII.” Id., 140 S.Ct. at 1747.
- ▶ “We do not hesitate to recognize today a necessary consequence of that legislative choice: An employer who fires an individual merely for being gay or transgender defies the law.” Id.

Title IX—Scope of Title IX

Redux and Reversed

Title IX in the context of Title VII case law – the resistance to *Bostock*¹

- ▶ OCR’s Withdrawal Letter of Impending Enforcement Action dated February 23, 2021¹
 - ▶ OCR determined “the Revised Letter was issued without the review required for agency guidance documents that set out policy on a regulatory issue” and “Revised Letter’s statement of OCR’s interpretation of Title IX and its implementing regulations should not be relied upon in this or any other matter.”
- ▶ OCR Notice of Interpretation dated June 16, 2021 – Published to the Federal Register on June 22, 2021²
 - ▶ “Department has determined that the interpretation of sex discrimination set out by the Supreme Court in Bostock—that discrimination “because of . . . sex” encompasses discrimination based on sexual orientation and gender identity—properly guides the Department’s interpretation of discrimination “on the basis of sex” under Title IX and leads to the conclusion that Title IX prohibits discrimination based on sexual orientation and gender identity.”

2. Enforcement of Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 With Respect to Discrimination Based on Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity in Light of Bostock v. Clayton County, 86 Fed.Reg. 32367 (June 22, 2021)

Title IX—Scope of Title IX

Redux and Reversed

Title IX in the context of Title VII case law – the resistance to *Bostock*¹

- ▶ OCR and DOJ release a joint notice flyer “Confronting Anti-LGBTQI+ Harassment in Schools” dated June 23, 2021¹
 - ▶ Reiterated OCR’s determination regarding the withdrawal of the revised enforcement letter in the CIAC case that the “Revised Letter’s statement of OCR’s interpretation of Title IX and its implementing regulations should not be relied upon in this or any other matter.”
- ▶ OCR Releases “Questions and Answers on the Title IX Regulations on Sexual Harassment” dated July 20, 2021²
 - ▶ Provides comprehensive Q&A regarding all the requirements under Title IX from new regulations, including most recent interpretation on applicability to gender status, gender identity, etc in light of Bostock

Title IX—Scope of Title IX

Redux and Reversed

Title IX and Gender Identity – the resistance to *Bostock*¹

- ▶ Competing decisions out of 4th, 7th, and 9th Circuits that Title IX covers transgender students vs. 11th Circuit that it does not
- ▶ Executive Order No. 13988, titled “Executive Order on Preventing and Combating Discrimination on the Basis of Gender Identity or Sexual Orientation.”
 - ▶ Extended the holding of Bostock v. Clayton County to Title IX, reasoning that “laws that prohibit sex discrimination... prohibit discrimination on the basis of gender identity or sexual orientation,” the Executive Order directed federal agencies to implement anti-discrimination statutes consistent with the Biden Administration’s interpretation. The ED published a Notice of Interpretation and issued a Dear Educator Letter as a result
 - ▶ The State of Tennessee v. United States Department of Education (July 2022) – 20 States brought suit and were granted a preliminary injunction barring enforcement of EO 13988 and application of Title IX to gender identity and sexual orientation

Title IX—Prohibited Retaliation

Title IX prohibits retaliation against any individual for:

- ▶ Opposing or reporting discrimination, complaining about discrimination, or participating in a discrimination investigation.
- ▶ Schools are prohibited from retaliating against an individual because the individual has asserted a right protected by Title IX; made a Title IX complaint or participated in a Title IX investigation, hearing, or proceeding; or protested sex discrimination. (34 C.F.R. §106.71; 34 C.F.R. §100.7(e))
- ▶ If a student files a complaint alleging that a school discriminated on the basis of sex concerning course work, grades, access to extra-curricular activities, etc, the school must ensure that the student is not subjected to retaliation.
- ▶ If an employee alleges that the school discriminates against individuals in its decisions concerning employment on the basis of sex, including but limited to tenure decisions; classroom or course assignments; approval of time off additional pay opportunities (advisors/coaches/professional development time) the school must ensure that the employee is not subjected to retaliation.

1. <https://sites.ed.gov/titleix/policy/>

Title IX—Prohibited Retaliation

Title IX prohibitions on retaliation also include:

- ▶ Intimidation, threats, coercion, or discrimination, including charges against an individual for code of conduct violations that do not involve sex discrimination or sexual harassment, but arise out of the same facts or circumstances as a report or complaint of sex discrimination, or a report or formal complaint of sexual harassment, for the purpose of interfering with any right or privilege secured by title IX or this part, constitutes retaliation. (34 CFR § 106.71 (a))
- ▶ The recipient of a complaint must keep confidential the identity of any individual who has made a report or complaint of sex discrimination, including any individual who has made a report or filed a formal complaint of sexual harassment, any complainant, any individual who has been reported to be the perpetrator of sex discrimination, any respondent, and any witness, except as may be permitted by the FERPA statute, or as required by law, or to carry out the purposes of 34 CFR part 106, including the conduct of any investigation, hearing, or judicial proceeding arising thereunder.

Specific Circumstances under § 106.71

- ▶ (1) The exercise of rights protected under the First Amendment does not constitute retaliation prohibited under this section.
- ▶ (2) Charging an individual with a code of conduct violation for making a materially false statement in bad faith in the course of a grievance proceeding under this part does not constitute retaliation prohibited under paragraph (a) of this section, provided, however, that a determination regarding responsibility, alone, is not sufficient to conclude that any party made a materially false statement in bad faith.

Title IX Specific Terms Grievance Process

Title IX– “Grievance” Process

34 CFR § 106.45 - Title IX Grievance (complaint) procedures – Similar to the older requirements and would encompass requirements consistent with NYS law

 - ▶ Notice must provide sufficient details with sufficient time for respondent to prepare for any interview.
 - ▶ Sufficient details include the identities of the parties involved in the incident, if known, the conduct allegedly constituting sexual harassment under § 106.30, and the date and location of the alleged incident, if known.
 - ▶ The written notice must include a statement that the respondent is presumed not responsible for the alleged conduct and that a determination regarding responsibility is made at the conclusion of the grievance process.
 - ▶ The written notice must inform the parties that they may have an advisor of their choice, who may be, but is not required to be, an attorney, and may inspect and review evidence.
 - ▶ The written notice must inform the parties of any provision in the recipient's code of conduct that prohibits knowingly making false statements or knowingly submitting false information during the grievance process
- ▶ If NEW claims or allegations arise during course of the investigation, a NEW “Notice of Revised Allegations” must be issued to the accused for those allegations.

- ▶ The recipient may dismiss the formal complaint or any allegations therein, if at any time during the investigation or hearing: A complainant notifies the Title IX Coordinator in writing that the complainant would like to withdraw the formal complaint or any allegations therein; the respondent is no longer enrolled or employed by the recipient; or specific circumstances prevent the recipient from gathering evidence sufficient to reach a determination as to the formal complaint or allegations therein.
- ▶ Upon a dismissal, the recipient must promptly send written notice of the dismissal and reason(s) therefor simultaneously to the parties

- ▶ The more severe the conduct, the less pervasive it must be.
- ▶ Environment
- ▶ Did the conduct occur in view of others?
- ▶ Consequences of conduct upon plaintiff
- ▶ Plaintiff's unreasonable delay in reporting harassment

What is Title VII Harassment

Employer Requirements regarding Title VII Claims and Investigations

- ▶ Employers must take timely and effective action to prevent sexual harassment.
- ▶ Employers and managers may be held personally liable for damages due to harassment.
- ▶ A “reasonable woman” standard MAY be used by the court to identify sexual harassment.
- ▶ Ellison v Brady (1991): Unless the conduct is quite severe, isolated incidents of sexual conduct or statements do not create a hostile environment. BUT, they do create an obligation on the part of a concerned employer to prevent a recurrent of the offensive act or statement

What is Title VII Harassment

Remedial Corrective Actions - Fuller v. Oakland (1995)

- ▶ Must be reasonably calibrated to stop the conduct, to correct the impact of the conduct, and to prevent the conduct from reoccurring
- ▶ Remedial and/or Corrective Action will be evaluated in the context of:
 - ▶ Severity of conduct
 - ▶ Pervasiveness of conduct
 - ▶ Likelihood for conduct to be repeated
 - ▶ Courts will 2nd guess you ... especially if the conduct did continue
- ▶ Poor or Failed corrective actions include
 - ▶ Ignore a complaint or problem
 - ▶ Deviate from or ignore your policy
 - ▶ Discuss with the violator over coffee
 - ▶ Put the victim and accused in a room to “sort it out”
 - ▶ Punish/Retaliate against the victim
 - ▶ Accept recantations blindly or half hearted investigations - “Oh, that’s just Joe”
 - ▶ Pass investigation “up the chain” without legal or follow-up

What is Title VII Harassment

RETALIATION

- ▶ Elements of a Charge for Retaliation under Title VII
 - ▶ Plaintiff filed a charge of harassment, or engaged in protected activity in connection to a complaint
 - ▶ Plaintiff's employer subsequently took adverse employment action against the plaintiff – much broader than what is required to sustain a complaint for hostile environment or discrimination, can be any employment related action
 - ▶ The adverse action was causally linked (in time, scope, or proximity) to the plaintiff's protected activity
- ▶ Once this prima facie showing of retaliation is made by the plaintiff, the burden shifts to the employer to articulate a legitimate, nondiscriminatory reason for its actions
- ▶ If the employer meets that burden of a legitimate, nondiscriminatory reason for its actions, the presumption of retaliation disappears UNLESS the employee can show that the employer's reason was simply pretext and the Employer's decisions were motivated by discriminatory/retaliatory animus

RETALIATION

- ▶ Retaliation Examples Include:
 - ▶ Unwanted/undeserved lower performance reviews
 - ▶ Transfers, duty changes, taking away or denying privileges
 - ▶ Discipline/discharge
 - ▶ Ridicule/blaming for work problems
 - ▶ Increased counseling, criticisms, or oversight without a change in work performance
 - ▶ Continuing/escalating the prohibited conduct
 - ▶ Threats
 - ▶ Ostracism/exclusion in a way that creates an intimidating, stressful environment
- ▶ Title VII (like Title IX) prohibits retaliation against an individual for opposing or reporting discrimination, complaining about discrimination, or participating in a discrimination investigation.

Review of Policies & Procedures

- ▶ KNOW YOUR DISTRICT'S SEXUAL HARASSMENT AND TITLE IX POLICIES
- ▶ Who is the appointed Title IX Coordinator?
- ▶ Interview and/or confirm District's standard procedures
- ▶ Confirm District's standard forms in use and reporting process
- ▶ Policy Definitions vs. Legal Definitions
 - ▶ Is the District's Policy broader than legal requirements
 - ▶ Sexual Harassment
 - ▶ Gender-based harassment
 - ▶ Hostile Work Environment
- ▶ Does the Policy define unacceptable conduct?
 - ▶ Conduct that applies to students and employees alike
 - ▶ Sexual and/or gender based harassment are likely treated the same

Review of Policies & Procedures

Does the Policy provide guidelines for determining what constitutes Sexual Harassment?

Not all unacceptable conduct with sexual connotations may constitute sexual harassment.

In many cases (other than quid pro quo situations where the alleged harasser offers academic or employment rewards or threatens punishment as an inducement for sexual favors), unacceptable behavior must be sufficiently severe, pervasive and objectively offensive to be considered sexual harassment.

If the behavior doesn't rise to the level of sexual harassment, but is found to be objectionable behavior, it may not constitute "Harassment" but could still be a violation of District Policies and/or the Code of Conduct as "harassment", i.e., unprofessional or inappropriate conduct.

Review of Policies & Procedures

- ▶ Does the Policy provide guidelines for determining what constitutes Sexual Harassment?
- ▶ In evaluating the totality of the circumstances and making a determination of whether conduct as alleged constitutes sexual harassment, the individual investigating the complaint should consider:
 - ▶ 1. the degree to which the conduct affected the ability of the student/employee to participate in or benefit from his or her education or altered the conditions of the student's learning environment or altered the conditions of the employee's working environment;
 - ▶ 2. the type, frequency and duration of the conduct;
 - ▶ 3. the identity of and relationship between the alleged harasser and the subject of the harassment (e.g., sexually based conduct by an authority figure is more likely to create a hostile environment than similar conduct by another student or a co-worker);
 - ▶ 4. the number of individuals involved;
 - ▶ 5. the age and sex of the alleged harasser and the subject of the harassment;
 - ▶ 6. the location of the incidents and context in which they occurred;
 - ▶ 7. other incidents at the school; and
 - ▶ 8. incidents of gender-based, but non-sexual harassment.

Review of Policies & Procedures

Policy Guidelines for Investigating Complaints?

- Generally, reviews should begin within 5 working days of the initial complaint with the review be completed within 30 days, absent extenuating circumstances
- Requirement to investigate verbal complaints as well as written complaints
- Informal vs. Formal investigation procedures
- Rules regarding parental involvement for student complaints
- Requirements regarding notifications or outcome letters for complainants and accused
- Range of proscribed penalties and/or approved remedial actions
- Maintenance of complaint records

Review the Code of Conduct

Review any other related “harassment” policies & applicable collective bargaining agreements for issues that may fall outside the scope of your Title IX Policy

Interview of Complainant

After review of the policy and complaint (memorialized verbal and written complaints), interview Complainant

Use an initial opening script, provide a copy of the written script to the interviewee (separate script for complainant, witness, accused)

Try to conduct the interview within 5 days of the initial complaint, the sooner the better

Recommendations

“The above notes are an accurate statement as to the events described and the undersigned swears they are true to the best of their recollection”
 - ▶ Print out a copy of the notes from the interview, Ask the complainant to review the notes of the interview, sign and date the notes

Initiation of a “Formal” Complaint

Verbal Complaints

For Verbal Complaints, if the complainant does not want to submit a written complaint, the Title IX Coordinator can sign the written complaint on behalf of the District as the “complainant” if the Title IX coordinator believes there is sufficient evidence of a potential claim of violation of Title IX

Formal Complaint moves forward with potential “victim” as a witness

Normal process followed from investigation through conclusion

Does not prohibit use of “informal” process for resolving potential Title IX claim

Requests for Documentary Evidence

Following interview of Complainant

Immediately request and secure any video evidence as soon as possible to ensure retention

Request and review a copy of the personnel file/student file of complainant

Request and review a copy of the personnel file/student file of accused

Request and review a copy of the personnel file/student file of an critical fact witness

Where necessary, interview any administrator/supervisor not involved with the substance of the complaint regarding general work history of the complainant and the accused

Use the complaint to drive the document/evidence requests

Fact Witness Interviews

▶ Start the interview – ASK THESE TWO IMPORTANT QUESTIONS

- ▶ Are you taking any medications today that would prevent you from understanding my questions and providing truthful and complete answers?
- ▶ Are you suffering from any medical conditions Use an initial opening script, provide a copy of the written script to the interviewee

▶ Try to conduct fact interviews within 2 weeks of the complainant's interview, the sooner the better

- ▶ Emphasis CONFIDENTIALITY and NO RETALIATION
- ▶ Who, What, Where, When, Why – Challenge with evidence, records, video, etc.
- ▶ Inform the witness that dishonesty can be grounds for discipline if the witness is evasive, try cooperation
- ▶ Contemporaneously memorialize the witnesses testimony

▶ At the end, ask –

IS THERE ANYTHING ELSE YOU WOULD LIKE TO ADD THAT I HAVE NOT ASKED YOU ABOUT

Press the accused on any inconsistencies

Present and review evidence with the Accused

Ask the accused about any evidence

- Review Video/Audio recordings

Decision Makers and Outcome Letters

Federal Code and Rules

34 CFR §106.45(b)(7) – Formal Grievance (Complaint/Investigation) Process

- ▶ The decision-maker(s), who cannot be the same person(s) as the Title IX Coordinator or the investigator(s), must issue a written determination regarding responsibility. To reach this determination, the recipient must apply the standard of evidence described in paragraph (b)(1)(vii) of this section.
- ▶ The written determination must include -
 - ▶ (A) Identification of the allegations potentially constituting sexual harassment as defined in § 106.30;
 - ▶ (B) A description of the procedural steps taken from the receipt of the formal complaint through the determination, including any notifications to the parties, interviews with parties and witnesses, site visits, methods used to gather other evidence, and hearings held;
 - ▶ (C) Findings of fact supporting the determination;
 - ▶ (D) Conclusions regarding the application of the recipient's code of conduct to the facts;
 - ▶ (E) A statement of, and rationale for, the result as to each allegation, including a determination regarding responsibility, any disciplinary sanctions the recipient imposes on the respondent, and whether remedies designed to restore or preserve equal access to the recipient's education program or activity will be provided by the recipient to the complainant; and
 - ▶ (F) The recipient's procedures and permissible bases for the complainant and respondent to appeal.
- ▶ The recipient must provide the written determination to the parties simultaneously. The determination regarding responsibility becomes final either on the date that the recipient provides the parties with the written determination of the result of the appeal, if an appeal is filed, or if an appeal is not filed, the date on which an appeal would no longer be considered timely.
- ▶ Title IX Coordinator is responsible for effective implementation of any remedies as determined by the Final Decision Maker

Decision Makers and Appeals

Federal Code and Rules

34 CFR §106.45(b)(8) – Formal Grievance (Complaint/Investigation) Process & Appeals

Both Parties must have a right to appeal a determination regarding responsibility or dismissal of a formal complaint or any allegations therein, on the following bases:

- ▶ (A) Procedural irregularity that affected the outcome of the matter;
- ▶ (B) New evidence that was not reasonably available at the time the determination regarding responsibility or dismissal was made, that could affect the outcome of the matter; and
- ▶ (C) The Title IX Coordinator, investigator(s), or decision-maker(s) had a conflict of interest or bias for or against complainants or respondents generally or the individual complainant or respondent that affected the outcome of the matter.
- ▶ (D) Or on any other basis the District deems appropriate.

Decision Makers and Appeals

Federal Code and Rules

34 CFR §106.45(b)(8) – Formal Grievance (Complaint/Investigation) Process & Appeals

As to all appeals, the District must

- ▶ (A) Notify the other party in writing when an appeal is filed and implement appeal procedures equally for both parties;

- ▶ (C) Ensure that the decision-maker(s) for the appeal complies with the standards set forth in paragraph (b)(1)(iii) of this section;
- ▶ (D) Give both parties a reasonable, equal opportunity to submit a written statement in support of, or challenging, the outcome;
- ▶ (E) Issue a written decision describing the result of the appeal and the rationale for the result; and
- ▶ (F) Provide the written decision simultaneously to both parties.

Practical Considerations

Pitfalls and Obstacles

“No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance.” 20 U.S.C. § 1681(a).

This provision, which is enforceable through an implied private right of action, was enacted to supplement the Civil Rights Act of 1964's bans on racial discrimination in the workplace and in universities. Yusuf v. Vassar Coll., 35 F.3d 709, 714 (2d Cir. 1994).

As such, it is important to note that the relevant conclusions and findings here apply to this context as an employment matter, the analysis and evaluation under Title IV and Title IX would carry equal weight.

Pitfalls and Obstacles

- ▶ “The law doesn’t prohibit simple teasing, offhand comments, or isolated incidents that are not very serious. Harassment is illegal when it is so frequent or severe that it creates a hostile or offensive work environment or when it results in an adverse employment decision (such as the victim being fired or demoted). A hostile work environment exists ‘[w]hen the workplace is permeated with discriminatory intimidation, ridicule, and insult, that is sufficiently severe or pervasive to alter the conditions of the victim's employment’.” Harris v. Forklift Systems, Inc, 510 U.S. 17, 21 (1993).
- ▶ Conduct that is “merely offensive” and “not severe or pervasive enough to create an objectively hostile or abusive work environment—an environment that a reasonable person would find hostile or abusive—is beyond Title VII's purview.” Id.

Pitfalls and Obstacles

▶ Section 703(a) sets forth Title VII's core anti discrimination provision in the following terms:

“It shall be an unlawful employment practice for an employer—
(1) to fail or refuse to hire or to discharge any individual, or otherwise to discriminate against any individual with respect to his compensation, terms, conditions, or privileges of employment, because of such individual's race, color, religion, sex, or national origin;
or

(2) to limit, segregate, or classify his employees or applicants for employment in any way which would deprive or tend to deprive any individual of employment opportunities or otherwise adversely affect his status as an employee, because of such individual's race, color, religion, sex, or national origin.”

Burlington Northern & Santa Fe Ry. Co. v. White, 548 U.S. 53, 62 (2006), citing 42 USC § 2000e–2(a).

Pitfalls and Obstacles

“The anti retaliation provision protects an individual not from all retaliation, but from retaliation that produces an injury or harm. ... Courts ... have used differing language to describe the level of seriousness to which this harm must rise before it becomes actionable retaliation. ... a plaintiff must show that a reasonable employee would have found the challenged action materially adverse, ‘which in this context means it well might have ‘dissuaded a reasonable worker from making or supporting a charge of discrimination.’

The anti retaliation provision seeks to prevent employer interference with “unfettered access” to Title VII's remedial mechanisms. It does so by prohibiting employer actions that are likely ‘to deter victims of discrimination from complaining to the EEOC,’ the courts, and their employers.”

Burlington Northern, 548 U.S. at 62-63, citing Robinson v Shell Oil Co., 519 U.S. 337, 346 (1997).

Pitfalls and Obstacles

Stated differently, while sexual harassment is typically based on pervasive and repeated objectively sexual or gender related conduct creating a hostile work environment or results in an adverse employment action, an isolated incident of harassment may be so severe as to rise to the level of creating an objectively hostile work environment.

Though Title IX (and Title VII) applies to the workplace, and generally to employees and workspaces over which the employer exercises managerial control, it does not apply to “non-employees” over which management has no control and where management does not approve or allow access or harassing conduct to take place

Liability for retaliation is MUCH BROADER than liability for Harassment or Hostile Work Environment

You can have a finding of no Harassment, but still be liable for retaliation

Retaliation can be any adverse workplace action

- Undeserved negative evaluation
- Change in work assignment
- Change in work location
- Increased counseling memorandums

Supervisors and managers should be very wary of any work place decisions in close temporal proximity to a complaint

Pitfalls and Obstacles

Harassment vs. harassment

Harassment - Constitutional or Statutory harassment – Unprofessional conduct, Code of Conduct violations, workplace civility

Two very different standards, responsibilities, and outcomes

Handled as very different matters, different standards of proof, different outcomes and responsibilities

Best Practices

Regular Sexual Harassment & Hostile Work Environment Training for Supervisors and Staff – Legally required
